PRIME MEDIA STREAMLINES SENIOR EDITORIAL ROLES
IN REGIONAL CENTRES

Prime Media Group today confirms that a number of senior editorial positions will go in Wagga Wagga, Tamworth and Canberra.

Prime Media Group's Chief Executive Officer, Ian Audsley said, "After a period of consultation with our staff, we have taken steps to consolidate a number of senior editorial positions within our news teams."

"It is always regrettable to lose good staff and this decision has not been easy or taken lightly", Mr Audsley said.

Mr Audsley added, "Prime still maintains a strong news presence in many regional centres, however, we have been making the point, for well over two years that regional voices in the national debate are under threat."

Prime Media Group has journalists and camera operators based in Wagga Wagga, Tamworth, Canberra, Albury, Orange, Dubbo, Port Macquarie, Taree, Coffs Harbour, Lismore, Sydney, Bunbury, Albany, Kalgoorlie, Geraldton, Broome and Perth.
